STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS

The National Dairy Development Board (NDDB) was set up in 1965 by the Government of India as a registered society with the primary objective for providing technical services to implementing agencies in building up their dairy projects on co-operative lines on the pattern of the Kaira District Co-operative Milk Producers' Union Limited, Anand, popularly known as the 'Anand pattern'. The National Dairy Development Board has since been progressively playing a wider role together with the Indian Dairy Corporation which is a company formed in 1970 to give supportive assistance in the implementation of the Operation Flood Programme.

2. The Central Government had appointed a Committee—commonly known as the Jha Committee—which had recommended the formation of a body corporate to perform the functions of both these institutions taking care to ensure that the autonomy and freedom and flexibility presently enjoyed by the National Dairy Development Board is not adversely affected thereby.

3. To achieve the above, it is proposed to declare the National Dairy Development Board as an institution of national importance and incorporate it as a statutory body. With the enlargement of functions of the National Dairy Development Board over the years, it is felt that the functions of both the institutions can, henceforth be performed by the corporate body and as such it is proposed to vest the undertakings of the Indian Dairy Corporation in the body corporate and dissolve the Indian Dairy Corporation.

4. The name of the National Dairy Development Board is retained for the corporate body so that there may be a continuity in reputation and understanding both in India and abroad. Provisions have been included in the Bill to ensure that the body corporate is able to carry on all the functions that they are discharging at present and play an enlarged and vital role with regard to milk, milk products and other commodities with which it is concerned or in respect of which the Government deems it necessary to involve them.

5. The Bill also makes provision for better administration of the body corporate including the constitution of the fund, provision for accounts, audit, etc.

6. The Notes on clauses explain in detail the provisions of the Bill.

7. The Bill seeks to achieve the above objectives.

FINANCIAL MEMORANDUM

The National Dairy Development Board which is a society registered under the Societies Registration Act has been functioning on a nation-wide basis together with the Indian Dairy Corporation which was formed to play a supplementary role to it. In the Bill, it is proposed to declare the National Dairy Development Board as an institution of national importance and make it into a body corporate so as to enable it to take over both the undertakings and perform their functions. The National Dairy Development Board (together with the Indian Dairy Corporation) has been functioning successfully by generating their own funds right from its inception.

2. Under the above circumstance, it is not expected that the body corporate will require any financing from the Central Government. However, clause 20 indicates that full-time officers or other employees declared as redundant in pursuance of clause 19 shall be dealt with in accordance with such scheme or schemes as the Board may, with the previous approval of the Central Government, frame to provide for the quantum of compensation payable to them. At this stage, it is not possible to make a precise estimate of the expenditure involved on this account as this would depend on the final shape of the new organisation. Similarly, clause 24 makes the usual provision enabling the Central Government to make grants or loans to the National Dairy Development Board after due appropriation.

3. In view of the above, the Bill, if enacted and brought into operation, is not likely to involve any expenditure from the Consolidated Fund of India, whether recurring or non-recurring.

MEMORANDUM REGARDING DELEGATED LEGISLATION

Clause 20 of the Bill empowers the National Dairy Development Board to make, with the previous approval of the Central Government, scheme or schemes regarding officers or other employees of the Board declared as redundant. Such scheme or schemes may provide for the quantum of compensation to such officers and other employees and for other connected matters including the provisions for appeal for the aggrieved redundant employees. Clause 38 empowers the Central Government to make any scheme under certain circumstances for the purpose of enabling the National Dairy Development Board to undertake and perform certain activities and functions relatable to dairy, foodstuffs and connected industries. Clause 48 of the Bill empowers the Board to make regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of the Bill and the schemes made thereunder, to provide for all such residuary matters for which provision is expedient for giving effect to the provisions of the proposed legislation. The matters in respect of which such regulations may, in particular, be made have been enumerated in sub-clause (2) of clause 48 of the Bill. Under clause 46, any scheme or regulation in respect of service conditions could operate retrospectively, but not earlier than the date of commencement of the Act.

2. Clause 49 of the Bill empowers the Central Government to remove by order any difficulty which may arise in giving effect to the provisions of the legislation. This is by way of abundant caution and for covering difficulties which it is not practicable to visualise. It has, however, been provided that no such order shall be made after the expiry of a period of five years from the date of incorporation of the National Dairy Development Board. A copy of the order is also to be laid before each House of Parliament.

3. Provision has also been made in clause 50 of the Bill for the laying of the schemes and regulations made under the Act before both Houses of Parliament.

4. The matters in respect of which such schemes and regulations may be made pertain to matters of procedure or administrative detail. The delegation of legislative power is, therefore, of a normal character.
